14. QUESTION TIME

14.1 CITY COUNCIL HOUSING LIST
In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir T. Moloney, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

To ask the CE now that the boundary extension has happened between the City & the County and there has been an addition 1,500 people joining the City Council Housing List, can the people who lost their time transferring over from the County to the City or vice a versa before the boundary extension regain their time lost in the transfer at that time.

(Cllr. Thomas Moloney)

REPLY

All citizens with applications for social housing supports transferred from Cork County Council to Cork City Council were given the benefit of the credit time accrued on their current open application. To ascertain if any such applicants had prior applications which were closed by Cork County Council would require each file to be individually reviewed; such an undertaking would be a substantial application of housing staff resources.

It is the responsibility of each applicant to ensure to keep his or her file up to date so that the Council can contact them as necessary and respond to ongoing reviews of housing need which are issued to the household. To restore credit time to applicants whose applications were legitimately closed would be a disservice to the vast majority of housing applicants who prioritise keeping their application updated, despite sometimes difficult personal or household circumstances.

B. Geaney,
Director of Housing.

14.2 OPW FLOOD DEFENCE SCHEME

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir F. Ryan, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

Can the Chief Executive provide an update on the status of the independent review of the OPW flood defence scheme.

(Cllr. Fiona Ryan)

REPLY

The OPW is the agency responsible for the assessment and development of Flood Relief Schemes Nationally. Cork City Council Councillors called for an independent review of the Lower Lee (Cork City) Flood Relief Scheme. In August 2018 the Minister of State for the Office of Public Works and Flood Relief Mr Kevin Moran TD responded that there was no requirement for further review.

Sean Lynch,
A/Director of Operations.

14.3 EVENT CENTRE

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir M. Finn, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-
That an update be given on latest of play in terms of the Event Centre, outlining in particular any updates from departmental DG Mr. Martin Fraser – who has taken on an overall supervisory role for the multiple moving parts – and any correspondence from the developers BAM/Live Nation or from the Tánaiste, Simon Coveney?

(Cllr. Mick Finn)

REPLY

Two meetings have been held between Cork City Council and BAM/Live Nation recently both chaired by Martin Fraser. All sides have reiterated their commitment to deliver this project and have positively discussed the challenges that remain which include level of design uncertainty, amount and form of public funding and the continuing amount of construction inflation currently running at 7%. The resolution of these issues may well have further implications for state aid and the public spending code compliance.

On foot of these discussions BAM have invested significant funds in preparing all further information requested of them under the planning process which has now been submitted to Cork City Council and the review of this information has commenced.

As well as the meetings referred to above contact is ongoing between the parties with a view to resolving the remaining challenges.

John Hallahan
Chief Financial Officer

14.4 FOOTPATHS AT LEHENAGHBEG/LEHENAGHMORE

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir H. Cremin, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:

Can the C.E. provide the following information, as to when City Council intends to progress the plan to ensure the footpaths on Lehenaghbeg/Lehenaghmore are progressed, when will the Council proceed to part 8 for the L2455 upgrade, whether detailed design is now complete, what the timescale for delivery of the upgrade is, and whether the Council will consider interim footpath for the locality?

(Cllr. Henry Cremin)

REPLY

The Lehenaghmore Project is currently at preliminary design stage. It is expected that the Part 8 proposals for the project will be ready for publication in Q4 2019. Detailed design and land acquisition can be progressed thereafter. Subject to funding approval, planning approval and land acquisition the construction phase could be commenced towards the end of Q3 2020. Interim footpaths cannot be provided along the route as the existing road corridor has multiple pinch points.

Gerry O’Beirne,
Director of Infrastructure Development.
14.5 FORMER ST. KEVIN’S HOSPITAL

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir T. Fitzgerald, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

To ask the Chief Executive to ensure that all discussions with the Land Development Agency regarding any development on the site of the former St. Kevin’s Hospital will involve local residents in the Sunday’s Well, Shanakiel and Lee Road area with a view to its long term plans and impact on the local surrounding communities.

(Cllr. Tony Fitzgerald)

REPLY

Having discussed the matter with the Land Development Agency (LDA), a presentation will be made on plans for Saint Kevin’s Hospital landbank to the Cork City North West Local Area Committee at the appropriate juncture, which is likely to be later this Autumn. The most suitable method of meaningful stakeholder engagement being considered can be discussed by the Members with the relevant LDA officer at that stage.

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir K. McCarthy, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

- Cork City Centre €916,000: Towards public realm works and development of Bishop Lucy Park. The design competition has commenced in relation to the development of Bishop Lucy Park. The design of public realm works is dependant on the final design of the Events Centre.

Unsuccessful projects in 2019 are:

- Development of the North East Orbital Route at Ballyvolane.
- Development of City Parks.
Meetings are ongoing with the Department of Housing, Planning and Local Government to prepare for strategic projects for Cork City in future funding rounds.

Fearghal Reidy,
Director of Strategic & Economic Development.

14.7 DERELICT SITES

To ask the Chief Executive the amount of monies collected through the Derelict Sites Levy on the properties 62-65 North Main Street; 93-94 North Main Street and 118-119 Barrack Street, since said properties have been entered onto this Council’s Derelict Sites Register in December 2015?

(Cllr. Dan Boyle)

REPLY

Derelict Sites invoices are issued to the owner of a site in the first quarter each year, this is followed by ongoing and regular issuing of statements for the remainder of the year. It would not be appropriate to comment on payments on individual cases such as the question has posed.

In general, ongoing engagement with the owners with regard to payment of levies is standard practice. Cork City Council monitors sales of properties, works with solicitors, auctioneers and any relevant ‘interests’ in the property to ascertain payment of the levy.

When properties change ownership, outstanding loans are purchased by third parties, and general complex commercial circumstances can occur in relation to ownership and the number of billing parties involved in a particular site.

The collection of levies can be challenging, frequently the derelict sites levies are discharged in a sale of properties. There have been circumstances where sales of complex sites can take some time to complete. There Derelict Sites Register has a complex tenure of properties, former family homes, commercial sites, sites without structures. In certain cases, site owners may not have the financial means to pay the levies.

We are also working with the Law Department to advance the collection of levies through the legal process.

In 2019 a total derelict site levy of €140,000 was collected.

Fearghal Reidy,
Director of Strategic & Economic Development.

14.8 PROTECT BUILDINGS FROM DEMOLITION

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir O. Moran, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

This month, at least four buildings in the city included by the Department of Arts, Heritage and the Gaeltacht on the National Inventory of Architectural Heritage have been proposed to be demolished. These are three buildings on North Main Street that collapsed and the Sextan on Albert Quay, which is proposed to be demolished for development.

In the case of the demolition of the Sextant, the Cork City Council Twitter account commented supportively on the plan that will see its demolition. In the case of the three buildings on North Main Street, these buildings have remained listed on the city’s derelict sites register since 2015.

What methods are available to Cork City Council to protect buildings such as these from demolition and what efforts were employed in these cases?

(Cllr. Oliver Moran)

REPLY

Planning permission is required for the demolition of buildings such as those which are part of the streetscape of North Main Street. The requirement for planning permission may only be set aside where a notice under the Local Government Sanitary Services Act 1964 is served requiring demolition of a structure on public safety grounds. Measures to make the building safe would generally be the preferred option and a notice requiring demolition would only arise where other options are not feasible.

The Cork City Development Plan 2015-21 states that demolition of buildings in an Architectural Conservation Area will only be granted in exceptional circumstances. Objective 9.30 states:

‘Demolition of structures or parts of structures will in principle only be permitted in an Architectural Conservation Area where the structure or parts of the structure are not considered to contribute to the special or distinctive character, or where the replacement structure would significantly enhance the special character more than the retention of the original structure.’

Cork City Council encourages and supports owners to maintain their properties through the annual Architectural Conservation Area Grant Scheme and incentives to refurbish buildings in the much of the city centre are available under the Living City Initiative.

The responsibility for the upkeep and maintenance of buildings to ensure that they do not become derelict and potentially become a danger to public safety is that of the building owner or their appointed agents.

Note that Cork City Council has not yet approved the demolition of any of the buildings referred to in the above question. The Building Control Section has informed the owners of Number 62, 63 and 64 North Main Street that the facade of no 63 must be stabilised and is working with them to ensure these works are commenced without delay. Key elements of Numbers 62 and 64 also need to be stabilised.

Development proposals for Carey’s Tool Hire and the Sextant will have to go through a Planning Application process where all aspects of the proposal will be fully assessed, either by Cork City Council or An Bord Pleanala, as appropriate as is the case for Strategic Housing Developments (SHDs).

Fearghal Reidy,
Director of Strategic & Economic Development.
14.9 ELECTION OF ELECTED MEMBERS TO COUNCIL COMMITTEES

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir K. Collins, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

(REPLY)

Catherine Kelly,
A/Director of Services,
Corporate Affairs and International Relations.

14.10 ILLEGAL PARKING IN CYCLE INFRASTRUCTURE

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir L. Bogue, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

Earlier this year, Cork City Council advised that the issue of illegal parking in cycle infrastructure would be dealt with through enforcement.

Can the CEO please provide the following information:

A. A narrative outlining what change in enforcement practices Cork City Council has put in place since enforcement was designated the preferred option to cycling infrastructure.
B. Figures on enforcement measures that have been implemented in this time. These figures may include number of hours of enforcement staff, numbers of enforcement of parking fines in this period and any other relevant figures.
C. The same figures as part B for the same period one year previously as a comparison.
D. Figures for revenue generated by Cork City council from enforcement measures related to cycle paths broken down over the two periods.

(REPLY)

Enforcement in respect of illegal parking is undertaken by An Garda Siochana and Cork City Council. The system deployed by Cork City Council is based on Fixed Charged Penalty Notices issued by Traffic Wardens. This system applies to various forms of illegal parking including footpaths, cycle lanes, sets downs, disabled parking bays etc. and operates six days a week, Monday to Saturday and is primarily focused on locations with high demand in the Central Business District as well as responding to complaints across the city.

The number of fines issued for parking in cycle lanes is as follows:
Sean Lynch,
A/Director of Operations.

14.11 AUDITS OF DERELICT PROPERTIES

In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir T. Gould, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

Who many audits of derelict properties have Cork City Council carry out over the past twelve months and what were the results of those audits. How many derelict sites have Cork City Council compulsory purchased over the past twelve months. Will Cork City Council be carrying out a full audit of all derelict sites in Cork City to ensure that none of them are dangerous and will Cork City Council being carrying out a survey to ensure that all derelict sites in Cork City are included on the derelict sites register?

(Cllr. Thomas Gould)

REPLY

_Derelict sites_ (as defined by the Derelict Sites Act, 1991), are generally identified by area surveys carried out on a periodic basis and as a result of reports from members of the public or others. The Derelict Sites Act mainly addresses visual and amenity impacts related to dereliction.

Separately, public safety arising from _dangerous structures_ is addressed by the Building Control Division of Cork City Council under the Local Government (Sanitary Services) Act, 1964.

The Building Control and the Derelict Sites Sections of Cork City Council coordinate on structures that are both derelict and potentially dangerous.

The building owner, or their appointed agent, is responsible for the upkeep and maintenance of buildings. The Local Government (Sanitary Services) Act, 1964 confers limited powers on Cork City Council when dealing with dangerous buildings or dangerous places. Cork City Council is committed to treating any report of a dangerous structure as a priority issue, and will promptly investigate any report.

Depending on the degree of risk and the simplicity of remedial works involved, in most cases, Cork City Council can negotiate a solution with the building owner without taking formal action. In some cases the action of Cork City Council may involve the serving of a Dangerous Structure Notice, which may subsequently involve District Court proceedings if the terms of the notice are breached.

Cork City Council may also carry out such works as it considers necessary, in the interest, and for the protection of public safety. The costs of such works may be recovered from the owner.
Under the legislation, Cork City Council cannot direct the owner / undertake remedial works to a property beyond ‘making safe’.

The 100 properties currently on the Derelict Sites Register are classified by status in the table below. The vast majority of sites are subject of planned or ongoing interventions, including use for social housing, physical improvement works, planning permission or disposal subject to removal of dereliction. Around 25% of the sites have no actions being taken by the owner and will therefore be higher priority candidates for compulsory acquisition.

• Cork City collected just under €40,000 in derelict sites levies in 2017 but was still the second highest after Dublin (at €193,000). Cork City Council’s collection increased to €140,000 by 2019. In response to the following question submitted by Comhairleoir F. Kerins, a written reply was circulated as outlined below:-

Can the CE update on Council efforts to ensure concrete rubble is removed from the former government buildings site on Sullivan's Quay, It seems the pile of rubble was flattened out from public view rather than removed?

‘I call on Cork City Council to consider the disposal of Grattan House to the middle Parish Association for a nominal annual fee so as to address the issue of possible dereliction at Grattan House. The residents have expressed that they would be interested in setting up museum highlighting the Marsh and Coal Quay in by gone days at this location and I would urge the Council to consider this proposal. In recent Grattan House has been attracting a lot of drug use and anti social behaviour and it has become a sorry site over the years and is blighting the area. Putting Grattan House into good use would offset any further dereliction..."
and enhance the area while at the same time create another tourist attraction within the city centre.’

(Proposer: Cllr. P. Dineen 19/164)

The report of the Director of Services stated that Cork City Council has received a number of expressions of interests in Grattan House. This building, along with the adjacent building at 47 Sheares Street has been unoccupied for some time and both properties are in poor condition, structurally and mechanically/electrically.

The intention now is to conduct a full options appraisal of the two properties, taking into account the interests we have received, the actual condition of the properties and the potential for redevelopment.

A fully informed proposal will be brought before Council with a clear plan for the properties in due course.
